Measrs. Kelly and Adams, representing Milwaukee and Jollet lodges of the Amaigamated Association, have been closeted with the chiefs at amalgamated headquarters. It is said they insist that their lodges keep the wage contracts, and that if they strike they be allowed to give the three months notice provided for in the contracts. The 190 men employed at the seamless tube plant of the National Tube Company at Christy Park, a short distance above McKeesport, came out this afternoon. The men are not organised, but struck in sympathy with employes of the other McKeesport plants of the company.

JOKE ON SHAFFER.

President Shaffer said that the nomination for the Presidency of the United States, offered him at Wheeling yesterday, was a joke.

The short crews at work in the Painton and Lindsay & McCutcheon mills resumed work today, and no attempt was made at either place to add to the force. The lower union mill of the Carnegie company is still in operation, but the final result there is in doubt. The Amalgamated men are making every possible effort to get the force reduced to a point where the plant will have to close down, and the company seems just as determined to keep it going. The strikers look for further impairment of the productive capacity of the National Tube Company. They are getting more encouragement every day, and that they are receiving all the support, financial and otherwise, from other unions, that they counted on in their original plans.

poration a copartner in the business.

Nor does the scheme have the appearance of charity. The btock will not be given away, but the selling price will be the same to labor as that paid by persons who direct the corporation's commercial and financial management. In other words, the men who run the steel milis will be piaced on the same investment level as those who do the's business. The commercial andoperating men of the corporation will become partners on an equal basis. Schwab and the roller will be holders of shares that cost the same, and Morgan will become a partner with the mill superintendent. Profit, through harmony between capital and labor, was the scheme. It was the whole basis of the craze to "consolidate." to "harmonise." to "unite," that greater profits to shareholders and workers alike misht accrue. It was on this theory that the United States Steel Corporation was founded. With this idea of cooperation in view, the United States Steel Corporation reserved a large amount of capital stock for subscription by the employés. The capital of the corporation was made sufficiently large to acquire the plants of misor concerns, to obtain sufficient working capital, and to have the remaining shares, valued at several millions of dollars, for sale to men in the operating departments of the milis. It was first necessary so cotain capital before the greater scheme could be carried out. This was done, but, according to the estimates of financial men, there still remains in the steel trust's treasury sureties worth, at par, $100,000,000.

No announcement has been made as to what disposition would be made of worth, at par, $100,000,000.

No announcement has been made as to what disposition would be made of this tremendous extra issue of securities, but it has been announced that only a few small properties would be bought, just enough to round out the productive capacity of the different plants. The presumption, based on excellent information, is that the stock, worth at par several millions of doilars, will be offered to the steel corporation's employés.

The scheme is novel only in its magnitude.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 16.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A tragedy of the sea comes from the South Pacific. The wreckage of the missing ship Manichester was recently found on a small desert island of the Marshall group, with indications that the captain, his wife and children and crew had landed on the island, and then had departed in two boats, as there was no water on the island. This occurred three months ago, and, as no trace has been found of them, it is feared they perished of thirst before they were able to reach an inhabited island of the Marshall group.

SEATTLE (Wash.) Aug. 15.—The party which is to lay the government cable between Juneau and Skagway will leave for the north today. The cable arrived last week on nine flat cars from the East, and a force of men has been at work splicing the different lengths together. About fiteen miles were loaded on each car, but it was necessary to connect the whole in one piece before it was loaded on the steamer.

The Lakme, which was chartered to carry the cable to its destination, and from which it will be lowered into the water, arrived during the early part of the week, and after the necessary changes in her hold had been completed the work of loading was begun. The last of the cable was placed on board last evening. The work of splicing and loading has been conducted by a party of university electrical engineering students under the direction of experts from the East.

Largest Torpedo-boat Destroyers.

Whipple, Truxton and Worden Successfully Launched in Baltimore Yards.

(BY THE NEW ASSOCIATED PRESS.—A.M.)

RALITIMORE (Md.) Aug. 18.—Three additions to the United States navy were christened and launched at the shipyards of the Maryland Steel Company here this afternoon. They are torpedo-boat destroyers, and will be known hereafter by the names of Whipple, Truxton and Worden.

The ceremonies attendant upon the launching sook place at 3 o'clock in the presence of a large assemblage of handsome women and distinguished men, including government, State and city officials, officers of both army and navy, and civilians of prominence. They came from Washington, New York, Philadelphia and from other points of the country in special trains and in private yachts, over a thousand special invitations having been issued and accepted.

When all was in readiness for the Elsie Pope of St. Paul, Minn., at the bow of the Whipple; Miss Millie B. Worden at the bow of the Worden. Each in her hand a bottle of champagne, encased in silver wire and having a handle of silver, upon one side of which was a shield surmounted by an American eagle, while on the other was a plate, upon which was engraved the date, the name of the craft and that of the lady holding it, to be retained by them as souvenirs. As each boat, in its turn, slid frow the ways into the waters of the Petapaco, the bottles were broken over the bdws, the names were spoken by their sponsors and the usual cheering, hand-clapping and waving of handkerchiefs and hats took place, accompanied by the noise of the steam whistles of factories in the vicinity.

The three new boats are dissimilar in name only. They are the largest of their type in the United States navy, and they are also among the largest in any navy in the world. Their comparatively superior size has enabled the designer to provide quarters for the officers and crew which are far more commodious than on other vessels of their type. All the furnishings in the cabin are made of metal. Asbestos sheathing takes the place of veneering in the finishings and wood is totally absent from the construction and fittings of the vessels.

The new boats in length are 259 feet 6 inches over all, 247 feet on the water, 27 feet 3 inche sould heating surface of 17,763 square feet. With this machinery they are expected to attain a speed of thirty knots an hour under natural draught. They are supplied with two torpedo tubes each, and each boat will have eight rapid-fire guns, of which six will be 6-pounders and the remainder 2-pounders.

The contracts for the vessels were let in October, 1899, and they have been built under the supervision of Commander F. D. Ford, assisted by Naval Constructor D. H. Cox. The approximate cost of each vessel when completed will be about $255,000.

Shamrock II is a more graceful craft. The beauty and cleanness of the run and the sharpness of the fore part of the fin are the principal points of the new Shamrock. When the larger sail is taken into consideration, she must be adjudged an opponent worthy to be met. With a foot less beam than that of the Columbia and a larger sail plan, she is an ideal fine-weather boat, well adapted to meet the usual run of early autumn breezes off Sandy Hook.

However, that the America's cup is in peril of being "lifted" by Sir Thomas Lipton this year is by no means the opinion of conservative yachtsmen, who looked upon the Shamrock II today. That she has intrinsic merit, and will doubtless be hard to beat was admitted, but everything about her hull that is meritorious has been gathered from American sources. A careful examination of the challenger showed that she had suffered no strain during her long voyage, and her bottom was comparatively clean.

hicLaughlin's bay gelding, Mike Rice, Tullett up, with a bracket to his credit from Monday's performance, had a narrow escape from defeat by Catherine Bravo, Eddie Carey's mare. The bookies played Mike Rice even, asked 3 to 5 on Limber Jim, Hobart's chestnut, and gave 2 to 1 on Catherine. Just before the start the Limber one got down to an even thing.

The third race, a three-furiong dash for previous non-winners, went to Eddie Carey's chestnut gelding, Corn Cake, a three-year-old, with Logue ur carry-in 165 pounds. The gelding was played by the bookies for a winner at 5 to 3, but the populace chose Haskell's Bagdad by a large majority, a 4-to-1 shot, with what looked like an excellent chance to win. The latter got a bad start, however, and barely missed loaing his place.

attested by numerous unprejudiced and reliable observers, that to the arregance, tyranny, and, in many cases, immorality of these priests, is largely due the dissatisfaction that has existed among the natives of the islands, and the frequent outbreaks that have dissated the archipelage with blood.

Just now is a particularly inopportune moment for these friars to mount a pedestal and preach treason against the government which gives them protection. In another Spanish-speaking country, to the south of us, there exists today a feeling of tremendous public indignation against the priests, on account of disclosures that have been made in the Mexican press regarding the gross immoralities that have been practiced by some of the clergy, resulting in the arrest and incarceration of one of them. It would seem, just new, to be a good time for Catholic priests in Spanish-speaking countries to "lay low."

These friars should realize the fact that under the Stars and Stripes there is absolute freedom of religious thought and practice, so long as such practice does not run counter to the established laws. To Uncle Sam the Methodist, the Catho.c, the Christian Scientist and the atheist are ai, alike, eitiness of this great republic, entitled to the rights guaranteed them by the Constitution, and to the protection of the law. They are also, all of them, expected to obey the law, and this applies to proud priests as well as to the humblest members of their flocks. The people frequently do not pay tribute to the city in any form whatever, and they should not be overlooked, when the "Irish dividends" are being handed referred to in The Times, that th yield a large additional revenue. There are said to be about four hun-Ame pricets for many genera. Had the pricets been left to the mercies of the natives, they not now be in a position to inmonth each. By imposing this license on all alike, the city would receive an additional revenue of $120,000 a year, or fully enough to cover any deficit that we are likely to encounter for some years to come. Surely, this sug-gestion is worthy of consideration. It would, of course, meet with strong opposition from the druggists, owners but, then, if any one can suggest means of raising additional revenu that would not meet with opposition is some quarters, he should at once comforward and receive the homage of the public, as the discoverer of the philosopher's stone,

An ex-telephone girl, who firew sec-ond place in the Lawton land lottery, has been appointed Marshal of the new town. Her "hello" which once brought a thrill of delight to her hearers will now bring a thrill of fear to the lawless element, especially if she ad-dresses them with a gun to back up the argument.

A scientist announces that the earth will be full in the year 2250. What would some of the old soaks give for 349 years of unalloyed bliss before they could announce themselves as really "full?"

Texas has legalized the shirt-waist man, but he is wary enough to keep away from the cattle towns, where the festive cowboy is always looking for some kind of a new target to plug at.

To have been strictly in style, Win-ters, the Selby smelter robber, should have skipped out and had the detect-ives "locate" him in various States and countries.

The only "strikers" who will be rec-ognized, even when the Amaigamated Association has been downed, are the colored porters on the Pullmans.

Uncle Sam's dogs of war are already pointing their noses toward South America and growling ominously.

WHERE COERCION PAILS. The indignation of Strike-lead

Upon learning tary idleness upon the command of Shaffer. Thereupon Shaffer's lieutenwere no longer members of the Amalgamated Association. That this "bluff" did not create any great amount of consternation may be gathered from the fact that the men received Tighe's announcement with laughter and jeers. These men were members of the Amalgamated Association, and they had signified their intention and their fied, however, with their employment, and could see no good reason why they should quit work merely because some of the other employés of the steel trust were dissatisfied. Their decision to continue at work is evidence of the possession of a great deal more common sense than is possessed by Shaffer and some others who need not be more particularly mentioned. Shaffer is on record as having declared, in high dudgeon, that unless these men joined the strike forthwith he would not accept a cent which they might see whom it was directed, any more than did the taking away of their charters.

The strike situation has brightened erceptibly since these members of the But they lack the moral and physical noral and physical courage to bid de-lance to the jeers, the ribald abuse, he threats of violence, and the actual

It indicates that the independence and the manhood have not been crushed out of all members of the Amalga mated Association. It looks as though bly, the beginning of the end may

OSSES OF THE MACHINISTS.

The Iron Age of recent date, discussing the losses of the machinists inaugurate's some weeks ago, points out that, although the International Association of Machinists may claim that a great deal has been gained by the adoption of the nine-how system with ten hours' pay in a considerable number of shops throughout the country, this claim is not fully supported by the facts. "If the association "ad by the facts. "If the association 'ad been successful in all or nearly all the great machinery centers of the country," says the Iron Age, "they could have looked forward to a complete victory at some time in the future. As it stands, they made a fight for a point which has only been carried in part The machinists have been defeated in so many of the shops, and particularly in so many of the large manufactur surrendered to the demands of the strikers at the beginning of the struggle, shortening the hours of labor and advancing wages to the rate demanded. These manufacturers now find themselves "In a most unsatisfactory con-dition in competition for business with other manufacturers who resisted the demand and finally secured a working force on much better terms." This, as the Iron Age declares, will cause dissatisfaction on the part of those employers who made haste to yield to the demands of the strikers, and "a readjustment may be expected to come at the end of the working year, if "to not insisted on prior to that time."

The only alternative course it would be recomed to pay the ordinance. dissatisfaction on the part of those The only alternative course, it would seem, would be for the International Association of Machinists "to force another strike in the shops in which they have just been boaten, and again endeavor to impose their terms on the entire trade. This," adds the Iron Age, "is not to be expected. The union will not attempt another fight of this kind in the near future." Speaking, further, of the violation of contracts by the "organised" ma-pear to the to ther side. This outcome of the strike will probably be deplored by those who believe in the ultimate organization of all workingmen to deal with a complete organization of employers. It will, however, not be mourned by the great number of people who believe in the fairness of employers as a whole, and their disposition to treat their men humanely and with proper consideration. Employers generally are not disposed to be tyrannical, oppressive or illiberal. They will usually do more for their men when left perfectly free to act than when efforts are made to correct them by organizations formed among their employés. The American materials

THE REAL CAUSE.

Now that the strike has lasted long enough to give a perspective view, those who are looking deeper than the mere outwardness of the strike are finding out the real cause of it. The nearest and apparent reason for the present fight was the demand of the teamsters for higher wages, but the real and foundation cause has not been made public until now, and the readers of The Tmies will learn it first.

The strike is, as has been said often, ployers' Association.

At first confined to only one or two lines of trade, and with only a few members, it grew in strength of numbers and purpose until today it has over four hundred of the leading business houses on its books, and has a cash capital of $500,000 in bank here, as an emergency fund, to pay the extra expense of those who refuse to knuckle to the unions, and who are compelled to the unions and who are compelled to the unions, and who are compelle to resort to extraordinary means carry on their business.

DESPERATE INTIMIDATION.

While there is not as much violence reported on the part of the strikers now as a week ago, it is only on account of the general cessation of certain kinds of business, and the strict policing of the downtown districts. The Times' correspondent is able to relate an incident, the truth of which is vouched for by a leading banker here, and which has not before been told. It illustrates more clearly than could anything else the desperate disposition of some of the strikers.

A draying firm here which employs a number of drivers, L. Mareili & Co., of No. 320 Broadway, was early involved in the strike of the tesmsters. As well as possible the firm kept its wagons out. Last Sunday night three of the drivers who persisted in staying with the firm were waited on by men at their homes. The door bell was rung, and the person opening the door was told that the caller wanted to see the man of the house on private business. In each of the three cases these interviews took place in the parlor of the house.

When the door had been locked or securely shut by the visitor, he drew a revolver and commanded the employé of Maraili & Co. to go down on his knees and swear that he would not drive a team again for that firm, or any other firm until permitted to do so by the unions. A promise not to betray the man making the threats was also gained at the point of the revolver. The teamsters were told that if they broke their promises they would be secretly killed, and the oath demanded of them was blood-curdling in the extreme.

This reads like an invention, but it is true in every detail, and the team-of them was blood-curding in the ex-trems.

This reads like an invention, but it is true in every detail, and the team-sters dared not break their oath in regard to working or naming their persecutors. Marsili was informed by the men of the facts, but nothing could extract from them information as to the identity of those who visited them. OFFICER JUMPED UPON.

went to the hospital with his scaip-laid open.
One of the most pathetic of the many sad incidents of the strike is the send-ing to Napa Insane Asylum of Charles Recknegal, a union brass finisher, who is out of work on account of the strike. He was the sole support of his wid-owed mother, old and poor, and in their little home at No. 243% Chara-street, they were very happy on the wages earned by Recknegal until, sev-eral weeks ago, he was forced out of his job by the unions. His worry over the welfare of his mother drove him crasy and he was yesterday committed to Napa a raving maniac. ROBBED BY STRIKERS.

EMPLOYERS ATTITUDE. The following statement was made today to The Times' correspondent by one of the leading members of the association, who, in his own hand, wrote it and asked that it be published in The Times:

"To correct any and all misstatements regarding the attitude of the

The Times:

"To correct any and all misstatements regarding the attitude of the Employers' Association toward uniona, the following is copied from the association's declaration of principles:

"We recognize the right of labor to organize to ameliorate its condition, and we, as employers, will not trespass on that right by refusing employment to any one solely because he does not belong to any labor organization; and we also denounce any coercion on the part of any employer whereby employer are compelled against their free will and volition to join labor organizations for the purpose of obtaining or holding employment from said employer; such action being inimical to the liberties of the individual, and in consequence productive only of harm to the community.

"We have no wish to interfere with this indisputable right of labor to organize, but we believe that the organization and the federation of labor should be followed by the organization and federation of employers of labor, to the end that neither party may be tempted to overstep the bounds of right, reason, and justice, nor to subvert those principles of the freedom of the individual upon which the government and civilization of this country are founded."

LIVED UP TO.

The policy of the Employer's Association is not dictated by a spirit of aggression, as those who insist upon a misstatement of facts attempt to impress upon the public, but, on the contrary, its members desire to aca misstatement of facts attempt to impress upon the public, but, on the contrary, its members desire to accord individual rights to all, which, being in conformity with the laws of our country, should not be criticised, but upheld by all citizens.

During the present trouble in San Francisco it has simply been the endeavor of the association to see that all who desire to work, whether they be union or non-union men, are protected.

The Constitution guarantees such protection, and justice demands it.

An exceptionally large audience gathered to witness the ordination.

After the reading of the episte the archdeacon called forth the candidates for the priesthood, and having presented them to the bishop, requested him in the name of the church to ordain them priests. Receiving them, the bishop advised them of the sacred uties of wriesthood, namely, to offer up the sacrifice of the mass to bless, to preach and to baptise. Ha-exhorted them to maintain in their habits the integrity of a chaste and holy life. Then followed the chanting of the litany by the priests, and, having finished this, the bishop imposed hands upon each deacon, all the priests pres-ordained priests joined with the bishop in the celebration of mass.

Toward the close of the mass the bishop unfolded the large vestment that had previously been placed on the new priests, at the same time communicating to them the full power of priesthood saying: "Receive ye the Holy Ghost, whose sins you shall foregive, they are forgiven, and whose sins you shall irretain, they are retained."

The final ceremony is the taking of the wow of obedience. Each subject comes forward, and kneeling, puts his joined hands into those of the bishop, promising to the dignitary and Lis successors reverence and obedience. Accepting the promise, the bishop kisses them, saying: "May the peace of the Lord be forever with you." This is one of the few instances where the kiss is administered in Catholic ceremony.

At the close of the service both new priests gave their individual blessings upon the congregation.

Many pie believe that the city is now ad upon to pay $2,000,000 to the ter company for the improved property, which was appraised by the ard of Arbitrators at $1,183,891 two are ago. To correct this erroneous pression and to apprise the reading life of the true situation the Mayor ided to issue an address to elec-

On this basis the gross income would mount to $400,220 per year. Out of its sum it would be necessary for the ty each year to pay $50,000, being as-fortieth of the entire bond issue, and interest on the bonds amounting to $500.000, being the property of the first year, and decreasing the year thereafter as the bonds are said off.

City Clerk, but as though S. A. Wal-dron and his petition for a writ of review had never appeared on the scene.

Arrangements for most of the politing booths have already been made and the election supplies are fast being se cured.

Everything indicates that the election will be held on the 28th inst., according to schedule, but the Councilmen fear what the next few days may bring forth.

All registrations must be made with the County Clerk at least twenty-five days before the election. Voters who have resided in a municipal election precinct for thirty days and are on the great register will be eligible to vote, it is said, even if they have moved since their last registration.

For the election about 40,000 ballots will be required and these will be secured within a few days.

FIRST STEP TAKER. MUNICIPAL WATER SYSTEM.

So sanguine is the City Council that the $2,000,000 bond issue will carry at the polls that the first step toward or-ganized municipal control was taken at a special session yesterday after-at a special session yesterday afternoon.

Councilman Blanchard introduced a resolution to appoint a special committee of three to formulate with the City Attorney an ordinance creating the department of water works, providing for the method of carrying it on, the collection of rates, the appointment of officers and employes and their fenure of office, with approved rules of civil service, the ordinance to be reported as soon as practicable. The president named Blanchard, Allen and Bowen as such committee.

It is true that the city has not yet come into possession of the improved water plant, but the Council intends to be prepared to assume the management when it shall. There is scarcely a doubt in the minds of the city fathers that the people will vote the bonds, but in case they should not the details of a system of management will be worked out and treasured up against the time when the plant comes into the possession of the municipality.

Sooner or later, say the Councilmen, the improved water plant must become city property and then some organized system for its management will be details worked out at this early stage, there will be plenty of time to adjust any differences of opinion that may arise, and much will be gained.

As yet the plans of the Councilmen.

"That ordinance will be repealed," said the Mayor last night. "It is now the intention to put the department on a civil-service commission. I always thought that other ordinance an extravagant one, but it was the best that could be done at the time."

LAND COMMITTEE'S CHARGE. Now that the city has secured over 300 acres in the Tejunga Wash, provi-sion must be made for its care. Yessoo acres in the Tejunga Wash, provision must be made for its care. Yesterday the Council delegated this duty to the Land Committee, which is composed of Todd, Blanchard and Walker. If the Democratic minority was overlooked in the make-up of the special committee on organization, it surely secured the balance of nower regarding the care of the city's new acquisition. Much of the land along the wash is agricultural in character and in securing it the city was compelled to purchase many perishable holdings, such as houses, barns and windmills. The Land Committee is charged with making an inventory of this property and reporting to the Council the best method of making it revenue-producing. In many instances the land can be leased to the former owners.

There has been some talk of selling the land again to farmers, the deeds being so worded as to preserve to the city all water rights. This plan has not been seriously considered as yet, however.

General satisfaction is expressed that ever.

General satisfaction is expressed that the city was able to secure this land, and the prevailing opinion seems to be that the Council has made a good stroke by following out the clever scheme of the city's legal advisers.

CONTRACT QUESTION.

PARK BOARD NO POWER. The the members of the various com-missions of the city are mere puppets, who must dance as the Council pulls the string, was again evidenced yes-terday, when an opinion was rendered by the City Attorney that the park board has no power to make contracts. The opinion was read at a special session held in the immorning and the commissioners took their medicine most gracefully. If there is any fault to be found with the system, and it is generally believed that there is, the charter and not the Council is to blame. Section 29 of the organic law provides that "the city of Los Angeles shall not be, and is not bound, by any contract, or in any way liable therein, unless the same is made in writing by order of the Council." The articles in the charter relating to the Park Commis-

TOT TIME BREWING FOR ARMY DESERTED

COLORED SOLDIER'S CONFESSION PUTS AUTHORITIES "NEXT."

John Pagens, alias Rube Thomps Prisoner in the County Jail Confronted With Serious Future-He Aided the Rube Thompson, a young colored prisoner in the County Jail, who is charged with stealing a bicycle, seems about to spring into national notoriety. His true name, he says, is John Fagens, and once he was a soldier, serving his country in the Philippines. Now he has confessed that he is a deserter, and his confession has attracted the attention of the army authorities. They are investigating his claims. According to his story, Fagens not only deserted the volunteer army at Manila, but went over to Aguinaldo's forces and took up arms against his native country.

forces and took up arms against his native country.

Thus has the black boy confessed himself guilty of two grave offenses. And he thinks he was amply justified in all that he did.

"The only thing that really worries me," said Fagens yesterday, "is this grand larceny charge of stealing a bicycle, if I could only get out of this, I should be happy. I don't fear any consequences from my desertion. Even if the worst came, I don't care."

ARMY AFTER HIM.

It may be of unexpected interest.

ARMY AFTER HIM.

It may be of unexpected interest, therefore, to the black boy to know that Gen. S. M. B. Young of San Francisco has ordered his immediate arrest, if he should be lucky enough to be acquitted of wheel-stealing, in any event, even after a penitentiary confinement, the army authorities will still be waiting to take him in custody, provided they find upon extended investigation that he is actually a deserter. Sergt. Demmer of the local recruiting station interviewed him in the County Jail yesterday and noted his confession of desertion in detail. The statements thus obtained are to be forwarded to Gen. Young.

If the facts corroborate his story, it is apt to go very hard with the boy. If he should be found to have descrited under fire of the enemy, he might be shot to death; otherwise long term in an army prison is possible. Desertion under some circumstances is a forty-year offense.

THE BOY'S CONFESSION.

Fagena, in detailing his story to Sergt. Demmer, avers that he enlisted in 1898 at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and was assigned for service to Co. I. Twenty-fourth Infantry, colored, arriving in Manila softe time in 1899.

"I deserted the American army," said Fagens, "in November, 1899, because I was so brutally treated by Lieut. Mc-Masters. He is a white man and treated me like a dog. At the time I deserted we had been marching all day and far into the night, when we got about two hours' sleep. Then the insurgents attacked us and we had a fight. In the morning we were given hardtack and water, and immediately ordered upon a forced march. I fagged out and fell behind, whereupon the lieutenant came back, took my gun and hardtack from me and marched away, leaving me, without defense in a hostlig country or a bit to eat.

"He had previously told me that he was going to get rid of me somehow, and I thought that this was my time to go. As soon as I was rested. I started back and was rested. I started back and was soon captured by a band of insurgents. For a month or so I was guarded as a prisoner, until I finally consented to Join their ranks. Yes, sir, they treated me fine, and before I got homesick. Aguina'do had made me a major. Everybody knew me, and I had all the money I wanted.

PARK UNIFORMS.

What is interesting the employes of the department most just now is their probable appearance in the new uniforms. Every man is anxiously waiting the time when the new suits are ready, as some apprehension is felt that the new-fangled garments will not be suitable for the work.

Superintendent Mendenhall is especially anxious to get his regimentals before leaving for his summer vacation. It is predicted that the superintendent will make a very striking figure in his gray uniform, dotted with brass buttons and bespangled with lace. When the superintendent goes about the street in the full panoply of office, it is said that the people will stand and stare in the belief that the Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's Hussars has come to town Indeed, it is doubted, if ever the Caar of all the Russias was thus arrayed.

Apparently the gravity of desertion is not apprehended by Fagens, for he about and how he could be punished.

This is queer for a soldier. And it is also queer that he should be so willing to confess.

REDLANDS, Aug. 15.—[From The Times' Resident Correspondent.] The City Trustees and the Citizens' Com-mittee went to the Duniap ranch yes-City Trustees and the Citizens Committee went to the Duniap ranch yesterday afternoon for the purpose of measuring the water that it is proposed the city shall buy with the bonds to be voted September 10. The Citizens' Committee investigation showed that the city will be 21 inches of water in the hole, with the Trustees yet to hear from. A total of 143 inches of water was found, the same as at the last measurement, with 109 inches leased, part of it with the privilege of purchase. The riparian owners in San Timoteo Cañon have filed with the City Clerk a claim for 37 inches of water, and enough other claims are on file to make it incumbent on the city to furnish 21 inches of water more than it will have after paying 1275,000 for the Duniap ranch, according to the estimate of the committee. As a result of this investigation there is a large roar going up from the property-owners intering up from the property-owners inter-ested, and the chances for the carry-ing of the bonds are diminishing. En-gineer F. C. Finkle of the California Power Company went on behalf of the Citizens' Committee, and City Engineer Lum went for the City Trustees. They agreed except in minor particulars. The secretary of the Board of Trade, G. C. Thaxter, who has been conducting the opposition fight, is jubilant over the outcome.

BARN BURNED.

A barn at the corner of San Mateo and Clifton avenue was burned yesterday. It belonged to J. A. Stone, and the loss was about $200. A maldservant of Dr. Smith, who lived next door, showed herself a heroine and saved her master's place from burning. The scene of the confagration is far from the engine-house, and by the time the department arrived the stone barn was hopelessly lost, but for twenty minutes Dr. Smith's domestic had been astride the rooftree of his house knocking off blasing brands. She finally connected two coils of garden hose and played water on the roof until the department arrived. She was quite severely burned about the hands.

CARELERS CAMPERS. CARELESS CAMPERS.

It is generally conceded that the majority of mountain forest fires in this vicinity are started by campers, who negligently leave their camp fires burning. Yesterday two residents of Ontario were arraigned before a United States commissioner on a charge of leaving a camp fire burning in the mountains. They were held in $500 bonds each, pending an examination, which is scheduled for the $8th inst. Forest Supervisor Bartiett of this city, has the names of several San Bernardino people who have left fires burning, and it is anticipated that more arrests will follow.

Old Amphitheater to Be Rest Old Amphitheater to Be Restored.

[Paris Messenger:] An attempt to resuscitate the old Roman Amphitheater near the Jardin des Piantes, Paris, is about to be made. This ancient arena, wh... is now used parity as a playground for poor children and parity for omnibus stables, has a remarkable history. It is one of the largest known Roman arenas and dates back to the first century. There is evidence that the Emperor. Julian held sports there. Gregory of Tours says that Hilperic restored it in 583 for the purpose of giving popular displays. The site was unearthed in 1867, when the Rue Monge was constructed, and the Omnibds Company secured it for stables and shelter for its vehicles.

[Paris Messenger:] There seems to be a veritable slump in bicycles. The number of machines in pawn at the Mont de Piete is a source of grave concern to the administration. Preight Car Wheel Passes Over an Indian's Pedal Extremities, and Yet He Is Able to Walk.

Benito Pina, a Yaqui Indian who came here yesterday from Negales, was the victim of an accident this morning which would have resulted in the loss of both an ordinary man's feet at the ankies. At least one wheel of a heavy freight train passed over his feet, and although his shoes were crushed and torn between the wheel and the rail, by some strange chance he was but little hurt. He walked to the police ambulance when it arrived, and from it into the Receiving Hospital.

Pina had made the rounds of the Alameda-street saloons and was very drunk. He attempted to board a Southers Penife train on one of the switches along Alameda street. Just as he boarded a flat car the engine started and the Indian was thrown between the cars. His fall was witnessed by a brakeman, who dragged him out after one of the wheels had passed over his feet.

The marks of the flange were plainly visible over the toe of one shoe. The injury to that foot was slight. The other shoe was crushed, the sole being almost torn off, but, strange as it may seem, the man's foot was but little injured.—The physician who examined him at the hospital could find no broken bones, and the flesh was but little lacerated.

THE LITTLE WILD FOLK.

Dear little wild folk of the woodland Secreted in thicket and dell, With every man's hand against you How do you live? Who can tell! So winsome, so timid and graceful, Gazing at us with wide startled eyes, Like souls seeking vainly for friend-ship.

I saw in the woods in the morning
A partridge in motherly mood,
Walking erect like a matron
At the head of her tiny, brown brood;
A rabbit looked on with approval,
Two squirrels frieked near in delight,
A bevy of birds sang in chorus—
They saw us! Oh, scurry and flight!

Oisen were still warm in their brains, and these they proceeded to repeat, and, with the reinforcement of whisky, convinced the union men that salvation lay in the choice of idleness.

One man who had been under Capt. Kirkwood for over five years almost cried when the mandate came that he must quit. Many held out, though, and Oisen left for San Pedro without having effected much.

The matter has been kept very quiet, but it has transpired that the Pacific Coast Steamship Company is runaing its passenger boats short handed. The firemen, a while back, broke their contracts with the company, along with the saliors and deck hands, and now all of the first and second mates under the company have been transferred to the Santa Rosa, where they are doing the work of firemen, saliors and dack hands. Firemen are getting $6 a day and the others in proportion.

The stevedores on the wharf who struck some time ago and had their moderate demands granted, are thought to be well satisfied with their present condition.
